

Invitation to Build Bridges Connecting Kids from Diverse Families

Imagine diverse kids dismantling racism by playing cooperative games.

Could your family help make this vision a reality?

Do you have a family member in grades 3, 4, or 5? If so, your family is invited to apply!

“What most builds bonds between strangers is discovering ways to play together.”
Anthropologist Mary Catherine Bateson

What? Workshops with kids and their families playing cooperative games.

Where? Workshops are offered online or in-person.

- In-person at Missouri History Museum, 5700 Lindell Blvd, St. Louis, MO 63112 CDC Covid protocols must be followed. Siblings may participate. Daycare available.
